Coronavirus Updates & Information

Updated: March 24, 2020 at 4:45 p.m.

Due to the evolving coronavirus COVID-19 situation, Prospect Schools has transitioned to remote learning and instruction until April 20, 2020. While our focus on teaching and learning continues, we are dedicated to supporting the health and safety of our students, families, employees, and community.

Please see below for key updates and information on school food and technology needs.

School Closures

Downtown Elementary School Clinton Hill Middle School Windsor Terrace Middle School Brooklyn Prospect High School	All schools closed through April 20 Remote learning is active
--	--

Office Closures

All physical school offices are closed through April 20; staff can be reached through email and phone

School Food

Starting on Monday, March 23rd, grab and go meals will only be available at 439 DOE school sites. Please note that these sites may change over time. We will notify you if there are any changes. Please find the list of sites here. Any students 18 and under may go to any of these sites to pick up one breakfast and two lunch meals, available for grab and go from 7:30 am – 1:30 pm, at the main building entrance. Families can pick up both meals at once; for the time being, families can only pick up one day's worth of meals.

Prospect Schools' Philosophy Towards Remote Learning

- Establishing Routine and Structure
- Curriculum & Instructional Adaptation
- Ensuring Accessibility
- Limiting Complexity

Stage 2 of Remote Learning - (Weeks 3, 4, and Spring Break)

BPHS Notes

Homework: Students should expect homework, but we're evolving how it looks in the remote space.

Grading: BPHS is updating TeacherEase with adjustments to work for remote learning.

Assessments: No International Baccalaureate exams for 11th & 12th graders this spring. We are awaiting news from the New York State Department of Education on how / if Regents testing will occur.

ES/MS Notes

Homework: Students should expect some, but we're evolving how it looks in the remote space.

Grading: Effort and completion are our primary foci during this stage of learning.

Assessments: All 3-8 New York State Assessments have been cancelled. We are working on World Language Placement exams for placement in HS.
